EXHIBITORS' FEEDBACK

rosmould & 3D-TECH

Nikolay Koshelev
General director, IMID

So many clients, such interest! Now you have reached the global level. Production of moulds is the top of the pyramid in the field of machine tool building, metalworking, and in such a high-tech sector, it is exhibitions such as Rosmould that bring tremendous benefits to the development of the industry in the country.

Nikita Kuznetsov
Project director of Advanced manufacturing technologies cluster, Skolkovo Foundation

We are very pleased that the exhibition is developing! This year Rosmould already occupies 2 halls. We see a large flow of visitors, where a large percentage is presented by people who are interested in 3D printing and in the development of this technology at their enterprises. Therefore, we usually have a fairly good amount of the right contacts from Rosmould exhibition.

Vyacheslav Bakhtiarov
Director of development, New Form LLC

The main message of this exhibition is to completely localize production and make it in Russia. Next year we are planning to expand, make our pavilion two times larger and, as usual, do something new.

Ashkhen Ovsepyan
Founder of a group of companies, SIU System

We really liked the exhibition this year: it has become much larger; on the first, on the second and the third day we see real customers, and we have very real, pleasant conversations. Rosmould is a flagship exhibition specialized in 3D technologies. If you are a self-respecting participant in the 3D market or if you want to see something, you will definitely come to Rosmould.

Sergey Sidiyakin
Director of marketing, FORSH JSC

Rosmould exhibition invariably pleases us from year to year with the number of visitors and the improving quality of the customers who come here. Most clients know what they want, in detail. Rosmould helps a lot as a platform for negotiations and new contacts, it is a great benefit for us.

Alexander Dokuchaev
Head of Representative Office, BORCHE Machinery

A lot of real projects and real requests. The exhibition allows you to communicate with customers and look at the current situation, requests, trends that exist in various industries, as well as to see what is happening in the polymer industry in general. The exhibition provides an opportunity to get live communication in a concentrated form literally in a few days.

Waldemar Birkle
Managing Director, Engel LLC

Participation in Rosplast means attracting new clients, stabilizing existing relationships, getting new projects, presenting your product. We are satisfied, we have a large number of visitors and technically important negotiations, where we discussed with clients the projects that they want to implement.

Ilya Ganyushin
CEO, Formotronic

I would say that participation in Rosplast exhibition for any specialized company is a prerequisite, because the exhibition develops and grows in terms of the number of exhibitors, new product groups, many different events are held within its framework, and it certainly becomes more popular every year.

Sergey Tsvetkov
Executive Director, INTERPLAST

First of all, participation in Rosplast exhibition is the image of the company. It shows that we are on the market, we have not gone anywhere. It allows people to know about us. This year there were even more visitors, the audience came already prepared. The organization of the exhibition is at the highest level, as always.

Alireza Jafari
Chairman of the Board, Eurasia Trading Co., Iran

It can be seen that the exhibition is becoming more and more large-scale, the number of both exhibitors and visitors has increased. The companies that came from us were extremely pleased with the exhibition, and therefore we will participate again. We are satisfied with the whole organization.
